Appearance: Catherine is a striking young woman of mixed American and Bangladeshi heritage. She has dark hair and eyes, and wears her hair short, preferring comfortable, practical clothes for her busy schedule.

Roleplaying: Catherine is proud of her achievements and hard-working. She takes little for granted and tries to judge others on their actions rather than making snap judgements. She makes a particular exception towards bigotry however, and will respond sternly to any injustice or slight upon her background.

Starting Drama: 4

CATHERINE YALE

Medical Specialist

Catherine Yale moved to the city as a young girl with her parents, and soon found her niche in the world. Confident and attractive, but never vain, she was well liked by her friends and found her calling in medicine, and had a promising career ahead of her.

The death of her father and mother in a plane crash some five years ago shattered many of Catherine's hopes and dreams, but through perseverance she has managed to scrape together enough to pay for her own way through medical school, aiming for a particular speciality in oncology (dealing with tumors).

The Group: Catherine has known most of the group for some time, and is closest to Thomas Farrow, who helped to council her after the death of her parents, and became a life-long friend.
