Appearance: Lawrence is short for a young man, handsome in a cute, roguish sort of way, with distinctive blue eyes and dyed black hair. He dresses in loose and casual clothing, and always seems to have an air of fun about him.

Roleplaying: Lawrence is friendly and talkative, but also arrogant and short-sighted in his goals. He's generally a good natured person, but doesn't really care about the law. He tends to attract friends because of his demeanour and his ability to be the life of the party, but events earlier in his life have made it difficult for him to form any deep relationships, and this has earned him something of a reputation.

Starting Drama: 4

LAWRENCE FARROW

Roguish Bartender

Lawrence has always been spoilt. The second child of his family, and his parents only child by blood, he's lead something of a charmed life. Learning from a young age to use his cheeky and handsome demeanour to get what he wants, he's found himself being drawn slowly into a dangerous spiral.

Despite the warnings of his half-brother, Lawrence has gotten himself involved with crime more than once in his life, and has only escaped by the narrowest of margins.

The Group: Lawrence is friends with everyone, but has a closest connection with Jack Bramhall, who served as a close friend and protector of his all the way through high school, helping him avoid much of the bullying that his slight build would have normally attracted. Regarding the others, he gets along well with everyone, but tends to find his half-brother a spoilsport.
